Program Options

French Common Law Option

It is possible for students to pursue a French Common Law option. Details can be found on the College of Law website on the Certificates and combined degree programs page.

JD/MBA Option

It is possible for students to pursue an MBA through Edwards School of Business concurrently with their JD. Details can be found on the College of Law website – again, on the Certificates and combined degree programs page.

Full-Time Program

Full-time students are required, in each term, to choose courses and seminars from the elective offerings for that term so their total credits in a semester will not be less than 14 or more than 15. That typically will involve the completion of five courses/seminars each semester. A student may exceed the maximum of 15 hours with the permission of the Associate Dean, Academic.

Part-Time Program

Any student wishing to pursue part-time studies must seek approval from the Associate Dean, Academic - and must complete first year courses in two years and must complete the JD program in six years.

At the end of each academic year, a half-time student's program will be evaluated as set out in the College of Law Academic Regulations.

Part-time students in the second half of first year are to obtain permission from the Associate Dean, Academic for courses they wish to register in and the number of credit units they wish to take in both terms of the 2026-2027 academic year. This permission may be requested by sending an e-mail to the Associate Dean, Academic (ada.law@usask.ca) prior to the course selection date.

Summary of Mandatory Requirements

Students are required to successfully pass 30 credit units in each of second and third year. Each student must achieve an overall average of 64% in the year. Students who do not achieve a 64% average but do achieve an average of at least 60%, may write supplemental exams, or other work, in courses where their mark is below 64% and must write supplemental exams, or other work, in courses they failed.

In addition, students must successfully complete:

Three Mandatory classes:

Administrative Law I LAW 340 in second year; Legal Ethics and Professionalism LAW 421 or the Legal Ethics Clinical Seminar LAW 497; and one senior-level Indigenous Law course. A list of classes meeting this requirement will be provided to students each year.

Two Papers:

A minor research paper and a major research paper. A minimum of 60% is required on each. At least one must be completed in second year. The paper requirements are contained in Academic Regulations.

One Seminar:

A minimum of 60% is required.

Pathways: Subject Areas for Student Advising Purposes

Courses have been organized into subject areas. Those courses that are foundational in that subject area have been identified with an asterisk “*”. The courses have been organized as follows:

- Business Law
- Commercial Law
- Criminal Law
- Environmental Law
- Experiential Learning Opportunities
- Family Law
- Health Law
- Human Rights
- Indigenous Peoples & Law
- International Law
- Labour and Employment
- Legal Practice, Advocacy and Dispute Resolution
- Legal Theory
- Sub-group: Moots
- Property Law and Succession
- Public Law
- Taxation
- Other

Please see here for more detailed information.

This document broadly classifies law courses into subject interest areas. Some classes fit within multiple subject areas. Where applicable, some courses are marked with an asterisk (“*”) to identify them as foundational classes within the given subject area. For instance, those with a particular interest in the subject/practice of criminal law may note that Criminal Procedure is marked as a class that is foundational to this area, and thus likely useful as a base for other classes in the area.

Note Courses listed under Indigenous Peoples & Law do not necessarily fulfill the senior-level Indigenous Law course requirement. For a list of courses that do, please refer to the Program requirements section of the Current students webpage.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR SECOND-YEAR STUDENTS REGARDING THE PROGRAM FOR 2026-2027

Although the final list of courses and seminars for 2026-2027 is not yet available, this document includes all the descriptions from which it is likely you will be able to select for your remaining two years of law.

This package will be supplemented at a later date with a list of elective choices for first and second terms, a course timetable, and an examination timetable for each term (which can be found here). You will be required to register for a full course load for both terms when registration opens - typically near the end of June / beginning of July. This year's registration window has been confirmed as Tuesday, June 23rd at 9:00 am. Students will be able to register online through PAWS. It is incumbent upon you to read this material carefully so that you will be aware of all the procedures which may affect your program selection. You can find some useful information about classes and registration here.

General University Information – Students should familiarize themselves with the general university policies HERE.

Students are required to read and understand the College of Law Academic Regulations.

TYPES/VARIETY OF COURSES

Seminars

The College offers small-group seminars as a vehicle for the advanced study of selected areas of law. Each student is required to complete one seminar during either the second or third year of study. Maximum enrolment in seminars is typically 15 students, and the primary mode of assessment is by the writing of papers. In many seminars the students present their papers to the seminar group. The "seminar" requirement and major research paper requirement can be satisfied concurrently in a single course, as can the "seminar" and minor research paper requirement.

Experiential Learning Options

Experiential learning (EL) places you in varied environments where you'll encounter the social, economic, and cultural factors that shape legal practice and access to justice. They are offered in various modalities and areas of study and practice. Whether your interest is child protection law, criminal law, start-up law, or beyond, these experiences serve diverse passions and communities, aligning closely with both students' interests and the needs of the justice system. For more details about what's available, take a look at the Experiential Education webpage.

Clinical and Practicum Programs (12 CU + 3 CU seminar)

- Rural and Regional Legal Externships – Placements available with Legal Aid Saskatchewan and Public Prosecutions offices throughout the province
- Child Protection Externship – Placement is with Legal Aid Saskatoon and available to students who have completed the Child Protection Practicum
- CLASSIC Intensive Clinical Law Program
- Criminal Law Intensive Practicum

Practicum Placements

Students may complete 3-credit unit practicum placements with organizations such as:

- Indigenous Child Protection (FSIN)
- CREATE Justice
- Law Reform Commission of Saskatchewan
- USask Governance Office
- Opus Startup Incubator
- USask Privacy and Access Office
- College of Physicians and Surgeons
- Federated Co-operatives
- USask Legal Office
- Saskatchewan Human Rights Commission
- Canpotex
- Cameco
- USask Faculty Association
- Saskatchewan Medical Association

Study Abroad Exchanges – Available in Term 1 or Term 2 at partner institutions.

French Common Law Option – Offered in collaboration with the University of Ottawa, requiring 12 credit units at a French-language common law institution. This experience offers an embedded internship experience.

This list may not be comprehensive at this time, as more organizations may be added. There are also courses with EL components across various areas of study such as Corporate Restructuring and the Dean’s Forum. Check the long course descriptions when they become available for full details.

Moots

You will not be able to register in Gale Moot LAW 427.3; Laskin Moot LAW 441.3; Kawaskimhon Aboriginal Rights Moot LAW 447.3; Dispute Resolution Moot LAW 448.3; Western Canada Moot LAW 450.3; Gerda Bloemraad Jessup Moot LAW 459.3; Corporate/Securities Moot LAW 464.3; Bowman National Tax Moot LAW 347.3 or Environmental Law Moot LAW 346.3 as a registration selection. Students are invited to try-out for moots in the early fall (usually within the first two weeks of September) and students will be notified when the moot team has been selected.

Participation in these moots straddles both terms, beginning in early October. Students receive three hours credit in either term one or term two but not both. Students will need to contact law.jdstudies@usask.ca when they have been notified that they have been selected and advise which term they wish to receive credit for the moot. Students will then need to delete a course and have the Student Services Office provide them with the CRN to self-register in the designated term. Those students who choose to receive credit for the moot in term one will not receive a final mark until the moot is completed. Upper year students are limited to one external moot per academic year in second and third year. This principle would be subject to exceptions as determined by the Associate Dean, Academic.

Law Review

As the course description outlines, the requirements of Law Review participants vary greatly from other seminars. Students apply for positions on the Student Editorial Board of the Saskatchewan Law Review and, if accepted, will register in this three-credit unit course, Law Review, LAW 490.3, to receive credit in either first OR second term but not both. Information on how to apply and be selected for Law Review is available on the Long Course Description. Invitation letters will be distributed later in the spring - do not list Law Review LAW 490.3 as one of your choices in your program selection. Experience in writing, publishing, or editing are examples of relevant qualifications. When the members of the class have been selected, the Faculty Editor will notify you of the decision. Once selected to participate in the Law Review course, a student is required to notify the Faculty Editor of intention to remain in the course or not by a specific date. You will then be able to delete a course in the term in which you wish to receive credit and have law.jdstudies@usask.ca add Law Review to your course registration during the course change period.

Individual Directed Research

The IDR course (Individual Directed Research) LAW 495.3 is available to students who wish to write a research paper in an area that is not the subject of instruction in other courses offered in the College. Students interested in doing an IDR for three hours credit must contact individual professors to determine if they are interested in supervising a research paper. Individual Directed Research proposal forms (available here) must be submitted prior to the term in which the student wishes to undertake the IDR. Students will be notified if their IDR proposal has been approved by Studies Committee during the add/drop period in September or the beginning of term two. If the course is approved, you will need to drop a course and have the Student Services Office add the IDR to your course registration during the course change period.

WRITING REQUIREMENTS

To meet the requirements for graduation, each student must complete three program requirements: a minor research paper, a major research paper, and a seminar class. It is permissible to complete more seminars and papers than this minimum requirement, but you will not graduate without meeting the program requirement. Second year students are required to complete a writing requirement in second year. It is most common to complete the minor research paper in second year and the seminar and major research paper in third year. However, it certainly is possible to complete the major research paper and seminar in second year. Students contemplating more complex variations, particularly those contemplating completing some upper year studies at another institution, should consult the College of Law Academic Regulations.

A grade of at least 60% must be obtained on minor and major research papers and in the seminar.

A major paper is to be a research paper and is to incorporate a substantial element of original analysis by the student. A minor paper may be a standard research paper, a case comment, drafting exercise, a book or literature review, or other writing exercise appropriate to the subject matter, such as a focused analysis of specific issues relevant to a course, with the understanding that the only limitation on content is that implied by the general goal of developing writing skills.

Major research paper – a single piece of work, 7,500 - 12,500 words (exclusive of footnotes, bibliography, title pages and table of contents). An instructor has discretion to impose more specific limits on length within these maximum/minimum guidelines. A major research paper must be valued at between 70% - 100% of the final mark in the course or seminar.

Minor research paper – a single piece of work, 4,000 – 12,500 words (exclusive of footnotes, bibliography, title pages and table of contents). A minor research paper must constitute at least 25% of the final mark.

Seminar requirement - an advanced course with limited enrolment taught primarily by discussion of advanced concepts rather than through lecture or practical exercises.

NOTE: Some classes are limited enrolment classes but are not seminars. These include Negotiation, Mediation, and Trial Advocacy.

NOTE: Seminars carry three credit units; however, seminars are only timetabled for two hours. The additional hour is allocated for research and writing.

MANDATORY COURSES

Students in their second year must complete Administrative Law I LAW 340.3. In their second or third year, students must also take Legal Ethics and Professionalism LAW 421.3 (students may instead take Legal Ethics Clinical Seminar LAW 497.3 to meet this requirement), and a senior-level Indigenous Law course.

UPPER YEAR REGISTRATION

This year's registration window has been confirmed as Tuesday, June 23rd at 9:00 am. Registration will be possible by accessing the Registration Channel in PAWS. Additional Registration information may be found on the Classes and registration page.

Important to:

- check the exam schedule prior to selecting courses;
- register for a full course load for both terms - even if you plan on applying to an application-based course in either, or both, term(s). Acceptance to application-based courses is not guaranteed.

College Regulations and Policies

EXAMINATION ACCOMMODATIONS

As part of the College of Law's commitment to offering its diverse student body an opportunity to display their knowledge in an equitable manner, Faculty Council has endorsed a policy on Examination Accommodation.

Arrangements are made to accommodate students who require either special facilities or extended time to complete examinations.

- I. The role of Access and Equity Services \(AES\) is to provide services and resources to students requesting accommodations on the basis of a prohibited ground(s), including disability, religion, family status, and gender identity.

If you feel you may meet any of the criteria listed above, and wish to be considered for AES exam accommodation, please visit the AES PAWS channel for further information, and to find out how you can register with AES.

Please note that students must be registered with AES to use the AES Exam Accommodation service.

Information regarding the scheduling of exams (which includes information on the timing and place for writing your examinations) will be made available through Access and Equity Services. Any errors or other consequences that result from a failure to apprise yourself of this scheduling information will be your responsibility.

II. In addition to a discretionary power which rests with the Associate Dean, Academic to accommodate unique student needs, the following grounds have been acknowledged by Faculty Council as potentially sufficient for granting College of Law exam accommodation:

- Students who attended the College of Law Summer Course(s) and regularly attend(ed) Academic Success in 1L;
- Students with English as a second language;
- Any other legitimate reason other than a condition accommodated by USask Access and Equity Services.

Any exam accommodations under these categories will be granted only as the ADA deems appropriate.

Some students meeting the criteria for receiving extra examination time under the College of Law policy, may also receive extra examination time through Access and Equity Services (AES). Students who write at the College of Law will receive extra time as determined by the College of Law policy. Students who write at Access and Equity Services will receive extra time as determined by Access and Equity Services.

If you wish to make a request for College of Law examination accommodation, submit that request when prompted by law.idstudies@usask.ca prior to the application deadline for each exam period.

DEFERRED EXAMINATION POLICY

If you experience a medical or personal problem that prevents you from writing an examination(s) at the normally scheduled time, you should do the following:

Requests for deferred exams should be submitted to the Associate Dean, Academic, ada.law@usask.ca. Please send your request for a deferral, and reasons for the request, as early as possible - but no later than the day of your exam. At the College of Law, First Year students are not granted deferred exams for missed December exams (except for Constitutional LAW 230.5), as they are considered midterms. In such situations their final exam counts for 100% rather than the usual 80%. Note that where students have fallen behind in their studies, the ADA may advise that course withdrawal may be more appropriate.

Exams deferred from the December exam period are normally written during the February break. Exams deferred from the April exam period are normally written in June. However, short-term deferrals are available in some circumstances, in which case students will be required to submit a declaration that they have not received information about the exam.

The Associate Dean, Academic can be reached at the following:

Office telephone no.: 306 966-5880
E-mail address: ada.law@usask.ca

The Associate Dean, Academic may be required to obtain further details from you (or a more detailed medical certificate), so try to provide the Associate Dean, Academic with sufficiently detailed information to make a decision.

ALL STUDENTS SHOULD BE AWARE OF THE FOLLOWING UNIVERSITY COUNCIL REGULATION:

1.4.5.iii A student who has sat for a given final examination and handed the paper in for marking will not be granted a deferred final examination.

EXTENSIONS

All term work must be completed by the last day of classes each term. Instructors may grant extensions to individual students up to and including the last day of scheduled College of Law examinations. Extensions beyond the last day of scheduled College of Law examinations may only be granted, with or without a penalty, by the Associate Dean, Academic.

COMPLETING SELECTION OF COURSES AND SEMINARS

No student may register for a course or seminar for which there is a prerequisite that has not been completed. See PREREQUISITE DEFINITION in the KEY TO COURSE DESCRIPTIONS on page 16.

Although the course-description section refers to first or second term (1/2) courses and seminars, they will be offered only in the term(s) indicated on the elective lists, to be updated in the course selection material available on the website at a later date, and for the credit hours shown thereon.

Every student must ensure that there are no conflicts in their program with either the class timetable or examination timetable. If a student enrolls in overlapping classes, they will be deemed to be in violation of college policy and will receive credit for only one of the two courses, with a WF (Withdraw/Fail) given for the other course.

Students are responsible to ensure they have adequate time between exams. Do not assume exams will be rescheduled simply because you have an exam accommodation stating '24 hours between exams'. This is a generic accommodation primarily aimed at students in colleges where students are not able to schedule their own exams through course selection. The 24-hour period for this examination accommodation is calculated from the start of each exam, not the end-time of the exam.

Students are required to attend classes in courses in which they are registered. Persistent failure to attend may lead to exclusion from the examination.

Courses which are sectioned in one or both terms have an enrolment limit of 70 per section. Courses offered in only one term will have a limit of 90 students. However, for pedagogical or logistical reasons, there is a lower limit for some courses.

Courses with low enrolment are subject to cancellation. Students will be notified if a course is being considered for cancellation due to low enrolment.

Each student's program will be subject to final approval by the Associate Dean, Academic.

OUTSIDE COURSES

For Credit in the Law Program

Students in the College of Law may be permitted to take up to six credit units of courses given by another college, during either second or third year. In order to elect an outside course for credit in the law program, permission must be sought from the Associate Dean, Academic, College of Law. Permission to include an outside course is given on the basis of how the course would contribute to your understanding of the law.

Students pursuing studies at another law school are responsible for having an official transcript from that school forwarded directly to the Associate Dean, Academic, College of Law, 15 Campus Drive, University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, SK, S7N 5A6 (law.jdstudies@usask.ca) upon completion of their studies so that credit may be applied. Students are responsible for ensuring that these transcripts are received prior to the end of the course change period in Term One. All students must obtain the prior written permission of the Associate Dean, Academic before enrolling in any intersession or summer session courses.

Students wishing to enroll as a letter of permission student at another Canadian law school during the summer or regular academic session should contact the Associate Dean, Academic.

Not for Credit in Law Program

Any student who proposes to take a university course outside of the College of Law, but not for credit in the College of Law, must seek permission from the Associate Dean, Academic.

NOTE: There will be no rescheduling of any student's law examinations where the final schedule results in conflicting or closely spaced examinations.

ALSO NOTE: Students enrolled in Combined Programs should consult with the College involved regarding requirements and JD courses accepted as credit.
