

The Morris Shumiatcher lecture in law and literature

IMAGINATION and IDENTITY:

How Stories Form Who We Are

with special guest speaker

YANN MARTEL

Stories are not just entertainment, they are something to indulge in after the day's work is done. Martel will discuss two examples of how stories are foundational to who we are.

Martel is the author of the short story collection The Facts Behind the Helsinki Roccamatios (winner of the Journey Prize); of the novels Self, Beatrice & Virgil; Life of Pi (for which he won the 2002 Man Booker Prize), and his latest, The High Mountains of Portugal.

Friday, Nov. 10, 2017

7PM

doors open 6.30pm

ARTESIAN

2627 13th Ave
Regina

This event is free and open to the public.

Please register your attendance:

<https://shumiatcherlecture.eventbrite.ca/>

