

STARTING THE CONVERSATION: A Discussion about Advancing Reconciliation in the justice system

Join Level and the Indigenous Law Students Association for a coffee break and snacks while becoming engaged in a conversational panel discussion about reconciliation and its involvement with the justice system. Our speakers will be discussing what reconciliation means to them and how they, given their expertise and personal experience, see the justice system being a barrier and potential tool to the advancement of reconciliation. This is an important topic of conversation so we encourage you to come and join us as our speakers have a wide variety of knowledge and expertise

MONDAY NOVEMBER 20TH AT 12PM IN ROOM 64 COLLEGE OF LAW

COFFEE AND SNACKS WILL BE PROVIDED

FEATURING:

MARIA CAMPBELL

Maria Campbell is a Metis author, playwright, broadcaster, filmmaker, and Elder. In addition to her work in the arts, Maria is a volunteer, activist and advocate for Aboriginal rights and the rights of women.

CHRIS LAFLEUR

Chris Lafleur is a member of the Metis Nation of Saskatchewan and is currently Senior Counsel in the Aboriginal Law Services Section with the Department of Justice in Saskatoon

GLEN LUTHER

Glen Luther is an Associate Professor at the College of Law. He is also an Associate Member of the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Saskatchewan and has extensive knowledge about mental illness and sentencing.

ANDREW SHOWALTER AND LAWREN TROCHIE

Andrew Showalter is a third- year student at the College of Law and the president of the Indigenous Law Student Society.

Lawren Trochie is also a third-year student at the college of law and the VP of Aboriginal relations on the Law Students Association Counsel.

PRESENTED BY: LEVEL IN PARTNERSHIP WITH THE INDIGENOUS LAW STUDENTS SOCIETY

LEVEL is a charitable organization that has been combating injustice and supporting projects that advance equality in rights and opportunities for over ten years. LEVEL's Mission is to level the playing field and increase access to justice for marginalized communities worldwide. This mission is advanced through mentorship and education opportunities. A theme is picked every year to be advanced. This year's theme is "advancing reconciliation in the justice system". For more information visit <https://leveljustice.org/en/about-level>.