ABOUT WORKSHOP:

This one day workshop will provide those delivering legal and justice services an opportunity to offer their experience and ideas to develop a framework in response to the needs identified in the 2022 Saskatchewan Legal Needs Survey. The workshop will pinpoint approaches that fit the Saskatchewan context, with a particular focus on supporting communities in their delivery of critical legal and justice services.

Participants will hear from justice leaders on topics ranging from improving access to legal information and supports, better understanding the needs of those seeking services, improving access to legal services, improving family justice, and using justice tools to build a people-centered response to identified needs.
