Section B – Project Information

3. Please describe project tasks:
   Students will provide information about family law in Saskatchewan through thirty-minute presentations on judicial process, custody and access, child support and division of property. Students will allot time for discussion and questions when a supervising lawyer is able to attend. Presentations will be delivered at various community-based organizations, including but not limited to SWITCH, FASD Network, International Women of Saskatoon, Global Gathering Place, and RADIUS. A maximum of 4 presentations will take place each month.

   Prior to delivering presentations, each student will be assigned a family law presentation from last year to review, ensuring that the information is up to date. The student will have the presentation reviewed by the assigned supervising lawyer. Supervising lawyers will not generally be present while students are presenting at community-based organizations, but students will be provided with reference information to provide participants with further information if they should have questions.

   The FLAC Coordinators will liaise with community partners, students and lawyers to coordinate presentations.

4. What is the final product or deliverable of the project?
   Students will offer family law themed presentations to community members.

5. What type of training will the organization provide to the student(s)?
   Students will receive general PBSC training as well as a full weekend day family law session specific training.
